

The Review is read and appreciated by that large body of people who buy four-fifths of the goods sold in High Point---the laboring people

Vol. 12, No. 38

High Point, N. C., Thursday, Sept. 2, 1915

8 Pages

NOBLE SPIRIT GOES TO THE FATHER OF US ALL

BELOVED PHYSICIAN FALLS ON SLEEP.

The distressing news Saturday afternoon that Dr. James A. Turner was dead created a profound expression of sympathy all over the city and wherever he was known. Death was due to heart failure, superinduced by Bright's disease. Dr. Turner was one of the ablest physicians in the south. Sunday afternoon a short funeral service was held at the home on South Main street, preparatory to sending the remains to Siler City on the early morning train Monday where they were interred at the old home of the deceased.

About sixty years ago Dr. Turner first saw the light of the day among the good people of Chatham county where his boyhood days were very profitably spent under most congenial surroundings. After reaching manhood he studied medicine and after graduating naturally located in that section which held so many things near and dear to him. Realizing that opportunity offered a broader field in his endeavors, Dr. Turner located in High Point some twenty odd years ago and was soon recognized at his worth, as one of the best physicians anywhere, a man who put his whole soul into his work and tried to help his fellow man who was afflicted. He built up a fine practice here but with his strenuous life found time to serve the city in the capacity of alderman, on the school board, city physician. Dr. Turner was also largely instrumental in creating the office of the county physician.

In 1905 he married Miss Fannie Little, of Rockingham and to this union was born one son, now eight years of age.

In June of this year Dr. Turner became sick and gradually went into a decline but he hung on to his business with that courage and fortitude that ever characterized his life. He went to Jackson Springs in the hope of being benefitted but his condition became alarming and he was carried to Baltimore for consultation with a specialist who held out little encouragement, save absolute quiet and rest away from his usual surroundings.

But his life was to be cut short by an act of Divine Providence and he peacefully passed away Saturday afternoon.

Deceased was a man of strong convictions and intensely in love with his fellow man and naturally his profession. He entered into his work with a devotion rarely found; their pains were his pains, their suffering a heart pang to him and he turned loose all the forces within him to raise from the bed of suffering those whom had entrusted their lives to him. He had a heart within him as big as the man himself—a heart that beat in responsive unison to the fever parched lips or the racking pains of a poisoned body. His mission was nobly carried out, a man who found his highest duty in serving his fellow man, a man that really represented his profession in its highest and noblest purpose. Dr. Turner was afraid of no man or thing and his strong convictions at times classed him as peculiar who is not but they were really the dress in the fire of gold that in its finished state shone so resplendent to those who knew him best. Few men there live who measured up so perfectly to the true definition of a MAN—and here you have about all the necessary qualifications of a human being, created just a little lower than the God of Abraham and Isaac. He passed as he lived, not afraid to meet his saviour—honest,

THINGS PERSONAL AND OF A GENERAL NATURE

A. R. Marsh of Route 3, was a welcome visitor to our office last week. Mr. Marsh likes The Review and renewed for another year. He reports good crops in his section.

Elbert Payne, son of Mrs. Flora Payne, has returned to the California oil fields. His friends regret to see him leave North Carolina and especially the old home.

Miss Louise Reitzel Saturday afternoon entertained the Beta Pi Club. Rook was the game played and refreshments were served. Miss Kathleen Petty won the prize of the evening.

Albert E. Barbee is visiting here after an absence of several years.

W. C. Beavans, of the Leonard-Beavans-Stamey Co., has returned from the northern markets.

H. A. Moffitt is back from the northern markets.

Prof. Chester Hayworth, at one time teacher in the city schools, but now principal of the Wilson schools, last week visited his uncle, J. Harper Johnson.

Marvin Smith who was brought to the hospital here from Burlington to be treated for typhoid fever, has recovered sufficiently to go home the last of the week.

The Boy Scouts have returned from a ten days' stay at Byrson City. They were in charge of Scout Master Marr and report a delightful sojourn.

Mrs. E. M. Wolsely, who has been milliner at the Allen Department store for several seasons, has returned to resume her duties.

The Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. Chas. F. Long Monday afternoon.

Miss Lillie Massey has returned from the popular Moore's Springs much benefitted by her stay.

Miss Mary White has recovered nicely from an operation for appendicitis.

The father of C. M. Edwards of this city, died in Durham last week and the remains were interred at Morrisville.

H. G. Barnes has returned from the state sanatorium much improved in health.

Miss Grace Harris, of Thomasville spent the past week with relatives and friends in the city.

Miss Florence Welborn is at Kernersville, taking her vacation.

Miss Myrtle Horney has returned to the Oxford orphanage to resume her duties as teacher.

A pile of trash burning Tuesday night caused an alarm of fire to be turned in from Box 48.

Lester Moffitt, of Asheboro, is soda dispenser at the Mann Drug Co.

J. W. Sechrest, the most useful Jr. Order member in the state, has been reappointed deputy councilor at the 12th district.

Joe F. Hoffman will attend a reunion Sunday of the Hoffman family in Baltimore.

"When Dreams Come True" over the good roads to Winston Saturday.

Number 36 had to apply the emergency brakes Wednesday to avoid running over some negro children at the east crossing.

Clarence and Harry Burns are visiting relatives in Winston.

Watch the date of your subscription expiration on your paper.

Yes, the editor will take anything that he can eat, wear or make use of for bodily comfort, on subscription to THE REVIEW. Get this.

Always glad to see our country friends in town. Come to our office and let us have a chat—will do both of us good.

Miss Nena Rhine, of Gastonia, is a visitor at the home of Mrs. D. H. Parsons. Miss Rhine was at one time a teacher in the city public schools and is now stationed at the Oxford Orphanage.

upright, truthful—a good citizen and devoted husband and father.

High Point is the poorer by his passing.

Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe conducted the services at the home. The remains were accompanied by a delegation of Elks from High Point Lodge, of which the deceased was an honored member to the train and on to Siler City, besides relatives and friends of the deceased.

Peace to his noble ashes.

IN THE COUNTRY'S THE PLACE FOR "GOOD EATS"

PLEASANT SUNDAY OUTING.

Notwithstanding the overhanging clouds an engagement was kept Sunday that proved very pleasant indeed to the editor and family, as well as Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kirkman, who accompanied us. Our destination was the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Mendenhall, Wallburg, route 1, being located about eight miles beyond the home of our venerable friend, David Welborn, or about 15 miles from the city. Mrs. Mendenhall is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Welborn, and a daughter of Mrs. Craven, who makes her home with her parents, the Welborns. We found a very pleasant place, the old Holland home, ideally located and well adapted to successful farming. A very fine dinner was served our party whose appetites had been whetted by a drive over about eight miles of red mud roads almost impassable at places, made so by the heavy rains. We thought as we journeyed to our destination that if any one could have experienced the trouble we had in getting over such roads that not a cry would ever be heard against good roads in good old Davidson. Certainly the roads will yet prove an untold blessing to all in the county. But we are disgracing: After dinner we took a stroll over the farm, looked at the growing crops, helped to slop the fat hogs, looked at the fishing streams, noted the good milch cows and cellar full of potatoes, beans and peas, and after eating a big bait of watermelon and peaches, spent the rest of the evening chatting about things in general. Leaving there in the late afternoon we were caught in a downpour of rain, reaching the home of Mr. Welborn about dark. Knowing full well the hospitality of these good people and not caring to go out in such weather with the likelihood of a puncture we "reigned up" for the night and returned home Monday morning, after a feast of good things to eat from the time we left home until returning.

A WILSON VICTORY
GERMANY ACCEPTS DEMANDS
Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, officially announces policy of Berlin which calls a halt to Germany's submarine warfare of torpedoing passenger vessels without warning.
Washington, Sept. 1.—No single triumph of the Wilson administration has occasioned as much favorable comment in Washington as the diplomatic victory which today brought assurances from Germany that the United States demand for a cessation of danger to Americans from submarine warfare will be complied with in future. This assurance from Germany is regarded here as the end of serious complications with Germany and is taken to mean in well-informed circles that there will be no war with Germany.
The outcome is regarded as a signal victory for President Wilson.
The minor forts of Lutsk in Russia have been captured by the Germans.

DRUMMED OUT OF TOWN

CANTELOUPE SENTENCE

Henry Tuggle who stole a 15c canteloupe from the New York Cafe Sunday was given his choice of leaving the city for two years or going to the roads for four months and as a result Tuggle hit the grit in short order for parts unknown.

Scholars are being enrolled for the High Point Conservatory of Music, under the management of Misses Clyde Kearns and Chrystine Curry.

SOME PERT SAYINGS BY MEMBER REVIEW STAFF

HOME-SPUN REVIEWLETS PARAGRAPHED

The devil don't care how much a person goes to church on Sunday if he can keep in touch with him the rest of the week.

The fellow who is carried away by his own flights of imagination, keeps his eye on some one on whom he may depend to bring him back.

It is so in life as in a musical organization—the bass drum makes the most noise but it don't lead the band.

The early bird may catch the worm all right but how about the poor worm.

All men may be born equal but they get over it before they die.

There is nothing new under the sun—all the good excuses have been made.

Don't hunt a gas leak with a lighted candle, it has been proven that it will see you first.

The self made man might sometimes exercise more care in selecting his material.

Many a man claims to know the dearest little wife in the world when he really means the cheapest.

Many a man deludes himself with the idea that he has the world at his feet—only to have his foot slip and his opinion changes without argument.

Life is a game in which one man's push is pitted against another man's pull.

It is all right to believe only one half of what you hear, but the trouble is to know which half.

An agreeable disposition is a nice thing, but some people are so easy to get along with them.

Lots of people are constantly giving advice, who apparently have no earthly use for it themselves.

The easiest thing in the world to make is a mistake, the next easiest is trouble.

AN AUTO. BRINGS DEATH

GOOD WOMAN KILLED

That was a sad accident in Greensboro Friday when Mrs. E. P. Wharton was run over by A. V. Caldwell's machine and sustained injuries from which she died a few hours later. Mrs. Wharton attempted to cross Asheboro street while it was raining hard and Mr. Caldwell did not see her in time to stop.

PAY YOU TO READ THESE

Summary of the News in this Week's Issue of the Review.

England announces concessions to Americans.

Ex-Senator Root denounces New York "bosses."

Thirty killed July the Fourth.

All the latest war news.

Governor will not interfere with Tull's sentence.

Miss Fannie E. Heck is dead.

Greensboro woman killed by auto.

Wilkes county plans big fair.

Ayden votes municipal bonds.

North Carolina market report.

Death of prominent physician.

Local and general news.

Poem by W. H. Dugdale.

Editorial.

NEW ADS THIS WEEK.

We call attention to the following new ads in this issue. Look them up and read them:

High Point Steam Laundry has an ad on the 8th page.

Thacker's has a Pants Sale on. See ad.

THE CATAMOUNTS SPIT SCRATCH AND VOMIT

INCONSISTENCY PERSONIFIED

"Jim Jam" and "Puck" have belched out the most damnable accusations against the South and especially Georgia on account of the lynching of Frank and yet are guilty, in their articles of attempting to incite to deeds of violence, the very thing they deplore in the Frank lynching. It is a good thing they are talking from "long distance." The Southern people are at least just as good as the northern people and a "dog-gone" sight better than these catamounts' that spit out such venom against our people. Better nurse your own sores and try to strengthen your depraved minds.

SHOOTING IRONS, ED?

TO MANUFACTURE DEATH CAPS

Peerless Machine Works of this city has been offered a contract to manufacture shells for the government and is considering the proposition.

COURT THIS MONTH

Beginning Monday, September 6, a two weeks' term will be started for the trial of civil cases. Following this term, September 20, a one week's term for the trial of criminal cases will be held. The concluding week, that of September 27, will be devoted to the trial of civil cases. Judge Justice will spend the month here hearing the cases.

None of the cases to be tried, either civil or criminal, are of more than passing importance. The criminal docket was practically cleaned during the last term of court and now nothing remains but blind tiger and other petty cases. There are said to be no civil suits pending involving much.

RATTLING OF DRY BONES!

NICE LOCAL HONOR.

The State Corporation Commission has designated the law firm of Roberson Barnhardt and Smith as special counsel to collect the inheritance tax on real property in the county since 1905. Heretofore the tax has only been paid on personal property but since a recent court decision both are liable for the tax, hence the selection of the law firm to carry out the purpose of the act.

MURDERER OF MRS. CLARK FREE

Lee Meredith who in the fall of 1913 shot and killed Mrs. Jim Clark in the western part of the city, was Saturday freed by Governor Craig on the recommendation of Judge Shaw and Solicitor Bowers and others. It is thought that the killing was accidental. Meredith was engaged in oiling his pistol at the time of shooting. He was only 17 years of age at the time.

SUES WIFE FOR DIVORCE

Harry Thaw is suing wife for divorce, naming John Francis, of New York and also desertion of Evelyn, as the causes.

APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Hunter Sechrest was operated on Saturday at the local hospital for appendicitis and is getting along nicely, his friends will be glad to learn.

Henry Townsend has returned to his home in McDonald after a visit to his uncle, Rev. W. H. Townsend.

Mrs. Levi Scott, of Greensboro, has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Walter Helper on East Green.

Mrs. Connie Charles Hardee, who has been visiting here, has gone to Hendersonville to meet her husband, where they will remain sometime before returning to their home in Florida.

Mrs. J. Alfred Eshelman and daughter have returned from a visit to relatives at Cary.

NORTHERN CAPITAL BEING INVESTED NEAR-BY ### IMPROVING HUNTING LODGE.

Marvin A. English, manager of the Archdale Shooting Club, informs the editor that extensive improvements are being made at the club house in Archdale. Four rooms, including bath, are being added, all the rooms papered and the house throughout painted. Steam heat is being installed, the Welborn Supply Company, having the contract. This will make one of the most comfortable as well as convenient hunting quarters in this section, which is presided over by one of the best managers anywhere. We of course refer to that prince of good fellows—MARVIN A. ENGLISH.

LIMB OF LAW DOUBLES UP

SQUIRE SUTTENFIELD MARRIES

Thursday evening Mrs. J. H. Watson and J. D. Sutenfield were united in marriage, Rev. A. W. Claxon, officiating. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride on Russell street. A fine supper was served the bridal party.

HONORS WEARERS OF GREY

Manager P. C. McIntyre has graciously allowed the members of High Point Camp of Veterans to enter the Rose Theatre each Monday free of charge if they wear their badges.

THE TAMBOURINE BEATERS

SALVATIONIST HERE

Brigadier Crawford, commander of the Salvation army in the south Atlantic Division with headquarters at Atlanta, yesterday inspected the local camp and in the evening delivered an address at salvation army headquarters on Smith street.

WATER USERS ON FROLIC

PICNIC TODAY

The first Baptist Sunday School will picnic this afternoon at the Parkway, having decided upon this place after the abandonment of the High Rook excursion last Saturday due to the inclement weather.

WITH THE 101 RANCH

Allen Suits, who has been with the 101 Ranch show the past year, in the harness repair department, was a visitor to his old home here last week. Suits says he likes the show business and that the show this year had a very fine season.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS AT POPULAR MOTOR PLANT

In a visit to the High Point Motor Company yesterday we found Manager Wilson feeling good over the extensive improvements being made by his firm, which will make this one of the prettiest as well as most convenient garages in the state—it is already one of the most modern.

Part of the new middle entrance will be used as a show room, which will be nicely fitted up, with attractive wall paper, ornamental ceiling and all modern appliances, and made light and airy by large plate glass doors and windows. There will be a reception room also.

What Manager Wilson terms as a department store is being located in the south wing of the building, in front. There will be a shipping room, receiving room; room for tires, tubes and accessories; electrical goods and the like; room for automobile repair parts, department for tools, oils, grease, soaps, etc. In fact it will be up-to-date in every respect and a credit to the city.

Miss Cromer, the milliner at Miss Venetia Smith's, has arrived and resumed her duties at this popular millinery establishment.